Hello, and thank you all for downloading this week's podcast with news and views of all the latest games.

So, let's start with a difficult question. Are computer games bad for us? Especially for children? Many people think that computer games are a waste of time, and don't teach you everything. Well, that might be true. But, luckily, not all computer games are the same. One software company has asked the question: What can we do to make computer games more intelligent? How can computer games keep our brains healthy and active? And they have created a new game called Annie Pond and the Box of Time. We think it will change your mind about computer games. This is our review.

Annie Pond and the Box of Time is unique. It's different from the usual action-adventure games that many people play, or simple strategy games like Angry Birds. This game features realistic characters, and different puzzles which really train your brain.

So, what happens in this game? Well, firstly, Annie Pond and the Box of Time, gives hours and hours of entertainment. You can play it at any time — on your computer, or on your phone — at home, or on the train or bus. And it has a very interesting story which keeps you interested for weeks and weeks. The main character, Annie Pond, is an extremely talented teenage detective who spends her time solving mysteries.

Attention, please, boys and girls!

This Friday, we will have the school open day. First, let me tell you the program for the open day. Your parents are supposed to arrive at the east gate of the school, and the teachers will meet them there at 9:00. And at 9:15, we will lead them to visit the classroom. At 10:00, they will begin looking at our class projects in the hall. Teachers will be with your parents all the way, so they can talk about your life at school. Lunch will begin at 12:00 in the dining hall. Your parents will eat with us. After the lunch break, that is, at 1:30 in the afternoon, they will visit the library and the new lab. At 2:30, they will enjoy a wonderful show. That's the last activity of the open day.

Now, I am going to give you the invitations. Please take them home to your parents. Thank you!

3. (1) 【答案】B

3. (2) 【答案】A

3. (3) 【答案】C

3. (4) 【答案】B

3. (5) 【答案】C

【解析】 In western countries, many children do chores to get money. They usually start to do this at the age of 10.

School students have to do homework and study for exams. They don't have free time from Monday to Friday. So they do chores only on weekends.

Younger kids only do easy chores. So they don't get much money. But that's OK. Many of them only want to buy candy. And candy is cheap! They help do the dishes after dinner, and feed the family cat or dog.

When they get older, kids want to buy more things. They want things that are more expensive than candy. Then they have to work harder! They often wash the family car, cut the grass, walk the dog or cook dinner.

Doing chores is a good way for kids to learn new things, for example, they can learn how to cut grass or how to cook, of course, their parents help them at first.
